

What is Claimed is:

1. A squeegee and brush holder in combination with a bucket for holding a liquid, said holder comprising a generally "U" shaped holder mounted on said bucket, said holder having:

a first portion extending into the interior of said bucket, said first portion having a plurality of suction cups mounted thereon, said suction cups being adhered to said bucket, a horizontal top end connected to said first portion, and an outer portion being connected to said top end, said outer portion having a first loop portion having an angle offset from said first portion, a second loop portion having an angle offset from said first loop portion, and a third loop portion having an angle offset from said second loop portion, each of said loop portions having an opening formed therein for extending outwardly from said bucket and holding the brushes and squeegees in an upright position.

2. A squeegee and brush holder in combination with a bucket for holding a liquid of claim 1 wherein said holder consists of molded plastic.

3. A squeegee and brush holder in combination with a bucket for holding a liquid of claim 1 wherein said holder consists of bent wire.